

Vera Sacchetti (Lisbon, 1983) is a Basel-based design critic and curator. She specializes in contemporary design and architecture and serves in a variety of curatorial, research and editorial roles. She is currently program coordinator of the multi-disciplinary research initiative Driving the Human: Seven Prototypes for Eco-social Renewal (2020-2023), and co-initiator of the Design and Democracy platform (2020–). Sacchetti teaches at HEAD Geneva, and in 2020 joined the Federal Design Commission of Switzerland.

vera (a) verasacchetti.net
@vsacchetti

RECENT POSTS

Opening talk at Cultures of Assembly

Getting Our Acts Together: Parity Activism Past, Present and Future

Counterparts: Exploring Design Beyond the Human

A woman is a woman is a woman...

Art Institutions in the Age of Existential Risks. What to Do?

Table Talks: Foreign Legion at Design Miami 2021

Vitra's turn to sustainability

Making the Tambacounda Hospital

Swiss Grand Award for Design 2021 – Sarah Owens

Parity Talks 6 – What's Good?

Archipelago: Architectures for the Multiverse

TEOK FORUM

A view of TEOK FORUM #1

Upon invitation by the curators of “Forum Basel”, the most recent exhibition at the S AM, TEOK Basel broke the fourth wall and occupied the streets of Basel for two guerrilla-style events. On 11 and 13 June, during the 2017 Art Basel week, we took to the streets for two performative occupations that brought our events “usually taking place in domestic settings” to the wider public. Thank you to S AM and the curators of the show, especially KOSMOS Architects, for the invitation!